Reprints Desk and Evidence Partners Announce Integration to Streamline Literature Reviews and Article Access

Integration of DistillerSR for Literature Reviews with Article Galaxy On-Demand Document Retrieval Delivers Immediate Time and Cost Savings to Researchers

ENCINO, Calif./OTTAWA, Can. – November 4th, 2019 – Research Solutions, Inc., (OTCQB: RSSS), a pioneer in providing cloud-based workflow solutions for R&D driven organizations, today announced that its wholly-owned subsidiary Reprints Desk has signed an integration agreement with Evidence Partners. The partnership brings together two of the world’s most advanced research platforms in one solution: Article Galaxy, Reprints Desk’s award-winning document delivery service, and DistillerSR, Evidence Partners’ industry-leading literature review software.

Used globally by the world's leading academic institutions, government bodies, medical device and pharmaceutical companies, DistillerSR saves valuable research time and dramatically reduces data errors by automating much of the manual work involved in conducting a systematic literature review, including reference screening, data collection and collation, reviewer conflict checking, duplicate reference removal, and inclusion/exclusion processing. DistillerSR enables researchers to:

- Reduce the time required to produce literature reviews by 40-60%
- Produce transparent, reproducible and audit-ready results without adding overhead
- Customize research workflows and protocols to meet individual study requirements

“The integration with Evidence Partners will help the scientific user community complete their research faster, more easily, and with better results,” said Peter Derycz, CEO and President of Research Solutions. “Our mutual customers will benefit from both automated literature review tools and easy access to full-text journal articles assessed in the review.”

Under the new agreement, Reprints Desk’s Article Galaxy research platform will serve as a powerful complement to DistillerSR, Evidence Partners’ literature review software, providing customers with fast and copyright-compliant access to the scholarly literature they are reviewing. Article Galaxy’s best-in-class article delivery engine offers on-demand access with just one click – whenever and wherever needed, right from within DistillerSR. With Article Galaxy, DistillerSR users achieve substantial cost savings on scientific literature access and will be able to:

- Purchase or rent full-text research papers from major publishers 24/7
- Get native PDFs delivered to their inbox within minutes
- Filter by lowest cost, Open Access, and subscriptions

“We view this partnership as a logical next step in streamlining and improving the DistillerSR experience for our customers.”, said Peter O’Blenis, CEO of Evidence Partners. “This integration further automates the literature review process, creating more capacity and lowering the cost of this important type of research.”
